Posters remind the Spanish of Vietnam's national liberation

23:53' 10/02/2009 (GMT+7)

VietNamNet Bridge – An exhibition of posters that portray the pride, power and determination of Vietnam in its past struggle for national independence as well as for present reconstruction is taking place in Granada city of Spain.

Entitled "The Renaissance of a Nation," the show displays more than 40 pictures by Vietnamese painters between the 60s and 90s of the last century, which were collected from the large pool of over 500 pieces of art in Vietnam's National Museum of Arts.

The event, which runs from Feb. 9 to Mar. 4, is jointly organised by the cultural centre under the University of Granada (UGR) and the Asian House – an agency that works to promote relations between Spain and Southeast Asian countries.

On the occasion, the UGR will hold several talkshows and screening of all social aspects in Vietnam in order to help those interested in the country get better understanding of the resounding victory of its war for national liberation.

Similar poster shows were opened in the capital city of Madrid in 2008 and in Barcelona in 2007.
